

To Those Considering Engaging the Services of Mr. Bob Bishop:

Look no further, this guy is for real.

A man of few words he is not. And why should he be, he's connected some of the biggest, brightest, boldest creatives to some of the baddest agencies around. That takes more than just words. It takes a deep understanding of a volatile industry and the business savvy I wish I possessed.

If this guy can't get you connected, I don't know who can.
